The Ohio county board of commisioners was in session yesterday afternoon, first as a board of canvassers and econd in its ordinary capacity for the transaction. Third, it was on deck as the dispenser of political favors. Not that the present board has these favors at its command, but that there are several members of the incoming board in it, and they were beset by applications for promises of support. Of the old board, Messys. McGregor, of Madison; Hare, of Centre; Tyson, of Union, and Fritz, of Ritchie, are in the new

BOARD OF CANVASSERS.

The Ohio county board of commissioners met yesterday amernoon as a board of canvassers and began the work of canvassing the returns for the work of canvassing the returns for the late election. The tally sheets for the precincts in Washington, Madison, Clay, Union and Centre districts, were gone over, and at 4:30 o'clock the work was discontinued for the day, and will be resumed this morning. So far there have been no changes from the tabulated returns appearing in the Intelligencer for these districts the morning after the election.

TO DEFEAT STURM

In the Second Senatorial District Dem-ocrats Attempt to have two Precincts in Marshall County Thrown out.

The county court of Marshall county met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in the county clerk's office, to canvass the votes of the late election, and declare the result. Hon, B. F. Meighen represented the Republican committee, and J. A. Ewing and J. C. Simpson the Democratic committee.

The court was in session all day, and only succeeded in canvassing seven precincts out of the thirty-six in the county.

Precinct No. 1, in Union district, was not returned according to the letter of the law, and all morning was spent in examining the election judges and others. But when the box, in which the balloits and all the election papers had been placed by the judges, was opened, the judges testified that it was just as they had fixed it the night after the election.
